In Danger.

Philadelphia, July 19.—The official canvass of heat prostration cases today is as follows: Treated at hospitals, 1,780; treated on street, 1,800; in stores and wagons, 850. Two are dead and sixty are in a serious condition. No members of the Elks' organization, who are now in the hospital are in any danger. The hospitals are still overcrowded and physicians are overworked throughout the city. The Elks are leaving today by every train and the city, after a week of continued excitement, is resuming its normal quiet.

Death of a Lynn Elk.
John D. O'Shea of Lynn, Mass., chairman of the board of trustees of the grand lodge of Elks for the past nine years, died last night at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel in this city. Death was due to apoplexy, superinduced by the heat.

The death of Chairman O'Shea, who was also exalted ruler of the Lynn lodge of Elks, cast a gloom over the delegation from Lynn at the Elks' convention and among the hundreds of his friends throughout the country and especially in the New England states who are in Philadelphia this week.

SPECTATORS WILTED
WATCHING PARADE

Total of 2,500 People Prostrated in Philadelphia Yesterday While the Elks Paraded Over Nine Miles of Territory.

Philadelphia, July 19.—The parade of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks yesterday was marred by the prostration from heat of many persons, estimated by the police and hospital authorities at 2,500. Never has there been such a wholesale overcoming of people in this city. For six hours the police ambulances and Red Cross nurses were kept on the run looking after persons who collapsed under the combined effect of the sun and humidity, and largely because of their excellent service but one case resulted fatally, James Rowley, aged 44 years, of this city, died in the hospital after being stricken in the street. The other prostrated persons are said to be in good condition with no prospects of fatal results.

The parade ground was on Broad street for a distance of three miles north and the same distance south of the city hall. The paraders counter-marched the last three miles back to the city hall so that they traversed upwards of 9 miles, yet few of those overcome by the heat were in the line of march. Those who succumbed were among the spectators jammed along the street in a solid mass from one end of the line to the other. The temperature averaged around 90 degrees and the humidity was excessive and as a consequence, people sweated. Among the few paraders who were overcome were J. Harrington Walker, of St. Paul, Minn., and Henry J. Walter, exalted ruler of the Philadelphia League of Elks.

LARGE MORTALITY.

Estimated That Fifty People Died of Heat in New York.

New York, July 19.—People were dropping on the streets all day long yesterday and when one estimate made the dead over 50 and those merely temporarily overcome over 1,500, there was no surprise. Some of those in the hospitals now can hardly recover.

The police records show that only seven persons are dead of the heat and that there were only 50 prostrations. The ambulance surgeons can tell a very different tale. Hundreds in the crowded districts toppled over and were carried into hospital emergency rooms, there to receive the saving treatment and go forth again to work as best they might.

BOSTON'S RECORD.

Several Deaths Yesterday and Many Prostrations.

Boston, July 19.—With the temperature and humidity both exceeding those of Wednesday, which was the most oppressive day of the year, Boston experienced great suffering yesterday. Particularly was this true in the crowded tenement districts of the city.

LYNCHING THREAT
AFTER THE VERDICT

Not Guilty Without Capital Punishment Was Not Considered Satisfactory to The People of Hannville, La.

Hannville, La., July 19.—Campisciano, Mrs. Campisciano, Tony Campisciano, Frank Gendusa, were yesterday held guilty "without capital punishment" in the Lamana kidnapping case.

The verdict in the case was reached just before dark last night after the jury had been out 45 minutes and at the close of a four days' trial full of excitement. The silence greeted the foreman's announcement. The spectators listened quietly while the jury declared that their verdict was unanimous and then court adjourned.

An hour afterward it was reported that preparations for a lynching were under way. A physician of local prominence made a statement "that the good people of St. Charles repudiated the verdict," and it was a "prostitution of justice."

Fife's secretary says Fife is on the way to America to attend the Canada cup race.

DERRICK'S PLUNGE.

Peculiar Accident on Southern Division of B & M.

Medford, Mass., July 19.—One man was seriously hurt and many others had narrow escapes in a peculiar accident on the southern division of the Boston and Maine railroad in this city yesterday.

At a point where the tracks cross the Mystic river, the bridge is being repaired and enlarged. A wrecking derrick on the temporary trestle beside the bridge started to lift a two-ton block of granite when, the weight proving too great, the derrick, together with the stationary engine and boiler attached, turned over and fell sixty feet to the edge of the river.

Engineer C. F. Colcord of Somerville went down with the derrick and while no bones were broken he was badly scalded by water and steam from the boiler. Twenty-five men who were at work beneath the trestle narrowly escaped being crushed. The derrick and engine were badly damaged.

Team Struck Near Fall River Mass., Last Night.

The automobile was bound toward Fall River and contained four occupants. The men were driving on the right side of the road and the chauffeur, it is said, made no effort to turn out. A NEW RAILROAD
IS NOW ASSURED

To Run Between Manchester, Vermont, and Granville, N. Y. Has Been Agreed For a Long Time.

Manchester, July 19.—The construction of a new railroad between this town and Granville, N. Y., is now assured by the formation of the Mettewee Valley Railroad company, which will absorb the Manchester, Dorset & Granville road and carry the line on to Granville. This road, built several years ago, reached only to the Norcross and West quarries at South Dorset and extended over only six of the 23 miles between this town and Granville. Thus it failed to relieve the residents of Dorset, Pawlet and Rupert from the necessity of driving many miles to reach the railroad.

What has been desired all along is a connecting link between the Rutland railroad at Manchester, and the Delaware & Hudson at Granville, which would tap a rich freight and passenger district. The constant agitation of the residents of the towns interested recently took the form of a meeting, which led to the formation of a stock company.

The directors of the new company are J. H. Sheldon, R. M. Campbell, E. H. West, C. N. Williams, O. P. Black, C. L. Leach, H. L. Manchester, C. E. Clark, Frank Colvin, C. E. Demio, F. T. Pember, E. R. Norton, S. Weinberg, C. E. Parker, H. J. Stevens, Herbert Rice, Ellis Williams, H. E. Barlow and F. C. Sheldon.

The directors chose the following officers: President, Casper L. Leach, Pawlet; vice-presidents, Herbert Rice, Granville; Charles E. Clark, Pawlet; Richard M. Campbell, Dorset; secretary, treasurer, H. L. Manchester; assistant treasurer, H. J. Stevens, Granville; auditor, M. J. Stevens, Dorset.

The executive committee consists of C. L. Leach, Dr. Manchester, F. T. Pember, Frank Colvin and John Sheldon.

LOST FOOT BY OPERATION.

Horace A. Bailey Is Recovering Now in Rutland Institution.

Rutland, July 19.—The condition of United States Marshal Horace W. Bailey of this city, who has been at the hospital here weeks suffering from blood poisoning in the left foot and diabetes, is steadily improving, although it was found necessary Wednesday to amputate the foot after three minor operations had been performed in an effort to save it.

When Mr. Bailey went to the hospital in May the blood poisoning was already well developed. The diabetic conditions were not discovered until he had been in the institution some days. This has responded well to treatment. Gangrenous conditions set in rapidly in the foot and last week it was decided to amputate. The marshal rallied well from the operation and the wound is healing splendidly.

The college was organized in 1873 and has about 400 students. The presidency has been offered to him before, but declined. Dr. George came to Burlington from Chicago, where he was president of a theological seminary, and preached his first sermon as pastor of the First church June 3, 1906, having been here, therefore, a little more than a year.

His car crashed into the other car with considerable force, smashing glass and fender.

Quite a number of persons on both cars were injured. As is known, no one was critically injured.

The track was soon cleared and the injured passengers brought to the city, reaching here shortly before midnight.

TOWN TO DECIDE.

Brattleboro Will Take Another Step Toward Owning Waterworks.

Brattleboro, July 19.—A petition was presented to the board of aldermen yesterday asking that a special village meeting be held to act on the question of municipal ownership of the water systems.

The legislature of last year passed an act that the village might offer Mr. Crowell $200,000 for his systems within one year and that if Mr. Crowell declined to accept that amount the village might establish an independent system.

The special village meeting will be called to determine whether the village wishes to take advantage of that act and if so to appoint a water board of not more than 12 nor less than five members, also to appoint a committee of expending not more than $50,000 for completing the systems and of issuing bonds not to exceed $350,000.

A WOODCHUCK DINNER.

Enjoyed By About Twenty Barre People Last Evening.

Joseph B. Sanguinetti and John McGarghan entertained a party of about twenty of their friends at a dinner at the Northern hotel last evening, which was rather an innovation in gastronomy, the principal meat of the banquet being the common ground-hog, or woodchuck. A number of these animals having fallen before the rifle of a Barre hunter, William C. Quinlan.

Superintendent of streets, Fred Bruce, acted as toastmaster and also ate his share of the "chuck." During the evening Peter Mutch arose, and in behalf of the company, presented the surprised couple a chocolate set, to which presentation both the recipients responded. Then little Rachel Dix presented them a bouquet of carnations from Madame Dix. HAVE GOOD SUCCESS.

Local Committee Soliciting For Fair Haven State Workers.

The soliciting committee appointed by the C. L. U. to solicit funds for the state workers of Fair Haven are now on the second day of their campaign and report favorable progress, finding that the union men of this city not only commend the action of the C. L. U., but are assisting the soliciting committee both by placing their names on the sheet. They no doubt realize that by so doing they are placing the most effective weapons in the hands of their brothers of Fair Haven, namely "funds" to aid them in their struggle for the 9-hour day.

LONG TRIAL,
NO VERDICT

Race Riot Case Heard in City Court.

V. STACY WAS RESPONDENT

V. Stacy Was Respondent. At Eleven O'clock Last Night the Jury Reported That It Could Not Agree Was Sunday Night Row.

After a trial before acting City Judge A. A. Sargent which lasted from 11 o'clock yesterday morning until 11 o'clock last evening, in which two interpreters and 20 witnesses were called, the six good men and true who acted as jurors in the breach of the peace case of State vs. Victor Stacy were unable to agree and were discharged. The case was continued until July 26. This is the case growing from the alleged race riot between four Frenchmen and from two to 200 Italians which is said to have taken place on Blackwell street last Sunday evening.

A Calagni was the first witness and his face bore mute evidence of having been in some sort of a fray. It was badly discolored and bandaged. He said that he and V. Macchi were driving along Blackwell street minding their own business when one of the party of four Frenchmen pulled him from the wagon and struck him on the head and face and after this some one picked him up and took him to a doctor. He said that he did not go to the house on First street where it is alleged that Italians had surrounded the house. He said that he and his companion, Mucchi, drank a little wine that day but nothing else.

V. Macchi was the next witness called and his story corroborated that of Calagni except that he was dazed by a blow or blows and when he came to was washing himself at the house of a woman whom he did not know. He said that he and Calagni had drunk six bottles of beer but no wine and that he didn't chase any Frenchman to the house on First street.

S. Bondi testified that he was driving along Blackwell street with his wife and saw the two Italians in the road and that the Frenchmen were pounding them; said that he attempted to rescue one of the Italians but that his wife was frightened and he went to his home. Did not see any other Italians at the scene of the affray.

G. Asper who was in the wagon with Bondi agreed with the former's testimony and both said that they did not pursue the Frenchmen. Asper said that he did not know who struck Calagni but that he saw Victor Stacy throw him. Silvio Cholechini said that he saw Macchi and Calagni on the ground and saw a man strike them; saw V. Stacy strike one of them. He said that the Italians' faces were covered with blood and that the assailants ran away soon and that he did not follow them.

A. Lautili was called next and his testimony was practically the same as that of the other Italians and he also said that he saw the Frenchmen throwing stones at the Italians. These witnesses were followed by M. Minnini, Leo Spinelli, A. Spinelli; all of these men testified that they did not follow the Frenchmen.

The defense opened and Fred Langevin was called. Langevin said that he in company with the Stacy's and Electa Blair were walking on Blackwell street last Sunday evening and that they were nearly run over by the team in which Macchi and Calagni were riding. That he shouted to his companions who were a little behind and spoke to the Italians whereupon one of the Italians threw something that struck Blair. As soon as this happened the Italians jumped from the wagon and attacked Blair, throwing him to the ground and striking him. A large party of Italians gathered and that they threw stones at the Frenchmen and that he saw one of them try to use a knife. He said that the Frenchmen ran away as soon as possible down to Main street and ran into his house on First street followed by the mob of Italians who were throwing stones.

He said that he ran through the house and took refuge at the house of a friend where he staid that night. At the conclusion of Langevin's testimony the court adjourned until seven o'clock.

Electa Blair was called next. She said that she agreed with that of Langevin and she said that the object which was thrown at him was a beer bottle and showed the scar on his face where it struck. He said that when the Frenchmen ran to the house on First street it was quickly surrounded by a crowd of Italians to the number of 200, who staid, "threatening them until the arrival of the police. He said that all Victor and Tom Stacy did was to assist him to get away from the Italians who were holding him to the ground.

Mrs. Charles Fasini, a French woman, was called and testified that Macchi came to her house and washed the blood from his face; that the Italians were chasing the Frenchmen. She said that she took a board, which was exhibited in the court room, away from Macchi. These witnesses were followed by Charles Fasini, Mrs. J. Toner, LeRoy Cunningham, Thomas Stacy, Oscar Stacy and Victor Stacy. Their testimony tended to show the affair as described by Fred Langevin and the other principles in it. Victor Stacy testified that one of the Italians struck him with a knife and showed a cut in his side.

The arguments were concluded by Grand Juror Davis and M. M. Gordon, defending, late in the evening, and the case went to the jury shortly before ten o'clock.

Thermometers this afternoon registered 84 degrees in the shade. Special for Saturday, S. J. Segel & Co. of Depot square offer as a special bargain about 3 dozen children's hair-briggen undershirts of the 25c kind to close at only 15c each.
